In this talk, Ciara explores what happens when formal schooling comes to Waodani foragers in the context of the vying interests of petroleum extraction, missionaries, the Ecuadorian State, biodiversity conservation, and indigenous rights movements.